

In transit... Real Tempo Matador @ BBT HQ

We advertised this car a couple of months ago on your favorite Blog... well we did sell to a very nice Gentleman in France, and handled all transport for him.

Earlier this week this cutie arrived @ BBT HQ in transit to its final destination in the South of France. So here some pictures for all of us to enjoy.

No reason to ask, no, this car is not for sale anymore... The new owner has been searching a very long time, and is extreme happy he could buy this nice one....
